WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies are text files that are saved on the device with which the user navigates when they access and use a website.

In addition to cookies on the website visited, while browsing, the user may receive on his device even cookies of different websites, ie third-party cookies, set directly by the managers of these sites and used for purposes and according to procedures defined by them.

WHAT ARE COOKIES FOR?

Cookies are used for different purposes: execution of computer authentication, session management, storage of information on specific configurations / preferences concerning the user who accesses the site / server, etc.

WHAT ARE THE TECHNICAL COOKIES?

They are used to make the correct navigation and to correctly provide the information / services requested by the user while browsing. They are those, for example, that which gather information on language, nation, user-defined settings. They can also be used to ensure the protection of navigation against possible phenomena of computer fraud and spamming.

They are normally installed directly by the website owner and are not used for further purposes.

Without the use of these cookies, some navigation operations could not be completed or would be more complex.

Technical cookies can be divided into:

· Navigation and / or session cookies, which guarantee the normal navigation and use of the website (allowing, for example, to make a purchase or authenticate to access restricted areas)

· Functionality cookies, which allow the User to navigate according to a series of selected criteria (for example the language, the products selected for purchase) in order to improve the service rendered to the same

· Analytics cookies, similar to technical cookies when used directly by the site operator to collect information, in aggregate form, on the number of users and how they visit the site

Session cookies do not contain personal data and last only for the session to use the site or until the internet browser is closed. For them it is not necessary to acquire an explicit consent.

WHAT ARE THE PROFILE COOKIES?

They are cookies that are used to track the user's navigation on the site and create profiles on his tastes, habits, choices, etc.

With these cookies, advertising messages can be transmitted to the user's terminal in line with the preferences already expressed by the same User in the online navigation

COOKIES MANAGED IN THIS SITE

This site uses technical cookies that are active by default when the User's browser is set to that effect.

No personal data of the user is acquired during the simple browsing of the web pages.

Cookies are not used for the transmission of personal information nor for user profiling.

In any case, the user can exclude them by deactivating them directly through the options of the internet browser he is using for navigation (see link below)

This site may use third-party cookies, for example Google Analytics, Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, etc.

For an updated list of the cookies used, refer to the cookie analysis available on the internet at www.cookie-checker.com
